SETTING TRIANGLE BASICS

- Quilt blocks can be set in straight settings with blocks in horizontal or vertical rows or they can be set in on-point settings with the blocks set at a 45° diagonal. In on-point quilts, setting triangles are the triangles located on the outside edges and corners of the quilt.
- When quilt blocks are set on-point, it often means that the straight of grain is set on the diagonal or bias (i.e., most susceptible to stretching). To stabilize the outer edges of the quilt, it's critical for setting triangles to be cut on the lengthwise grain so the straight of grain is on what will be the two outside edges of the triangles.
- The math to cut setting triangles correctly can be confusing which makes creating on-point quilts somewhat intimidating for quilters at any skill level.
- AccuQuilt GO! Setting Triangle dies are specially designed to accurately cut multiple setting triangles—both side and corner—on the lengthwise grain in one pass through the cutter. No math required! Six sizes available—4", 5", 6", 8", 9", 10" & 12" finished.

GO! Strip Cutter dies are a must when cutting a lot of strips. Die blades are 23" long and open at both ends; designed to cut folded fabric right off the bolt – up to 6 layers at a time!

STRIP CUTTERS WITH ANGLED GUIDE LINES

- Fast: Silkscreened reference guidelines make it easy to align fabric
- Flexible: Sub-cut shapes in the sizes you need
- Accurate: Easily cut diamonds for designs like Lone Star and 8-Point Star

Use the angled guide lines to cut diamonds.

Subcut perfect squares on the 90° guide line.
